He will speak at the Coliseum tonight.

Meets Champ Clark.
President Taft and Speaker Champ Clark were here in the Union station at the same time today but did not meet. Clark was hurrying to catch a train for Hutchinson, Kansas, where he will deliver an address.

Speaks to Crowd.
The president was introduced before the Mercantile club by Gov. Hadley. He made a brief speech commenting on reciprocity elections in Canada and again expressing his regret that the pact did not go through.

President Talks.
The president said in part, "I am very sorry to announce (you may not have heard it) that the reciprocity policy between this country and Canada has not gone through. I observe that the distinguished speaker of the house of representatives is engaged in discussing who is responsible. Well, I am content with the decision Canada has made and I don't see as it makes any difference who is responsible. I am familiar enough with supreme court decisions to know when I get a decision that hits me between the eyes it is time to stop still."

MORE HIGHWAY AID THAN APPROPRIATED IS ASKED BY TOWNS

$435,000 is the Total Amount Asked for While Only $350,000 Was Allowed—295 Towns Applied.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., Sept. 23.—Acting under the new state highway law, 295 towns in Wisconsin have reported their desire for state aid to the state highway commission, according to a statement by the commission today. All except seven counties have been heard from and only five counties reported no action. The sum of $435,000 was appropriated by the 1911 legislature for state aid for the first year, and $435,000 has already been petitioned for. The largest county not yet heard from is Manitowish, whose appropriation of state aid is $7,105. Ashland county has recently voted a tax of one and one-half mills, which will yield $20,000. Florence county, which, under the preliminary appropriation, would receive the smallest amount of any county, has asked for $17,500.

October 1st is the last day for filing reports for state aid.

BITTER CAMPAIGN IN FRISCO CLOSED

Fight Over Mayorality and Other Municipal Offices Practically Ended.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 23.—As bitter a political campaign as was ever waged in any American municipality was practically ended in San Francisco today. On Tuesday a primary election will be held for the selection of candidates for mayor and other city officers, including police judges, district attorney, sheriff, coroner and supervisors.

Patrick M. McCarthy, who was elected mayor by the labor organizations two years ago and under whose administration according to the declaration of his opponents, the city has been disgraced in the eyes of all decent citizens, is the big issue of the campaign. Every form of graft is charged against the administration, though the protection of vice is the charge upon which the foes of the McCarthy regime place most emphasis.

Mayor McCarthy is a candidate for re-election and has the solid support of the political machine which he has built up since he came into office. It is not believed, however, that he will poll as large a union labor vote as he got at the last election.

The Republican and Democratic and Good Government parties have united on James Rolph, Jr., for mayor. Rolph is a well known business man, free from outstanding alliances with any political ring. In announcing his platform, Mr. Rolph said he would make no hampering pledges, would make no appointments for political reasons and would recognize no faction in the community. He expressed himself in sympathy with the labor organizations, as long as they are law abiding, and declares that if elected he will use the whole moral influence of his office and his utmost personal effort to show both employer and employee that their interests and the prosperity of the city depend on that justice to one another which alone insures industrial peace.

The college also is considering making the course in agricultural journalism a first semester study to permit students to take the advanced course in the second semester. This is the first course of this kind offered at any institution.

The completion of the bridge across the Chehalis means much to this entire section, from the viewpoint of commerce and industry, for it marks the inauguration of railroad communication with the outer world. The bridge will be used by both the Harlan and the St. Paul roads as a part of the new lines just completed, to afford communication for Aberdeen, the largest lumber center in the United States, the port of Gray's Harbor and several other thriving cities and towns in this section.

USE OF THE SCHOOL AS SOCIAL CENTER

National Conference on Social Center Development to Meet in Madison Will Consider Important Question.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., Sept. 23.—The second session of the national conference on social center development, to be held in Madison October 25-28, will be devoted to the practical value to the day school of having the building used as a neighborhood social center. The chairman for this session will be State Superintendent of Schools C. P. Cary.

Supt. Carroll G. Pearce of Milwaukee, president of the National Education association, will speak on "Cooperation With This Association in the Social Center Movement." Supt. Pearce introduced the resolution at the recent San Francisco convention of the National Education association endorsing the movement for wider use of the schoolhouse. This resolution was unanimously carried, thus officially recording the school superintendents and principals as favoring the idea.

Address by Fowler.
In his interest in the movement the present United States commissioner of education, Philander C. Claxton, is as vigorous as was his predecessor, Elmer E. Brown, and it is expected that his paper on this subject will be a striking contribution to this conference.

The feature address of this session, however, is expected to be that of Prof. George M. Forbes, head of the department of education at the University of Rochester, president of the New York State Teachers' association, and president of the Rochester board of education. That city has gone further than any city in the country in making the school houses centers of democracy and acquaintance. His address will be on "Lessons Learned From the Experiment in Rochester."

Use of Schoolhouse.
Wisconsin now occupies a leading position with its law regarding the wider use of the schoolhouse. It is the first state to declare the indisputable right of the citizen to this use. This law was introduced by Assemblyman A. H. Sholtz of Dane county, for fourteen years a schoolmaster. It was endorsed by the education committees of both houses, most of whose members were school board men. It was signed by Governor McGovern, a former school principal. Recently the bureau of civic and social development in the extension division of the University of Wisconsin sent out to every school principal in the state a list of questions regarding the desirability of increasing the civic and social use of the schoolhouse. In nearly 600 replies so far received, there has been practically unanimous agreement that it is desirable to have the schoolhouses so used, and from most of these principals word has been received that at present there is no common meeting place for the citizens to gather. At this session, which will be held Thursday afternoon, Oct. 27, there will be opportunity for the discussion of the problem from the standpoint of school superintendents, principals and teachers.

JANESVILLE POSTAL BANK OPENED TODAY

CLARENCE BROWN, CLERK AT GRAND HOTEL WAS FIRST TO MAKE DEPOSIT.

GAZETTE MAN SECOND

Reporter on Gazette Staff Was the Next in Line at Early Hour Today—Business Fairly Good.

The Postal Bank opened this morning for the first time and began to receive money. Up until noon there were only six depositors. Clarence Brown being the first one to receive a certificate of deposit. A Gazette reporter was the second one in the number of applicants.

This savings deposit system will probably be very popular when it becomes better understood and a great number of people will empty the stockpiles, shoes and other receptacles which have previously been used as a private savings bank. People who were afraid to trust their money to the keeping of the private banks will take advantage of this opportunity to place interest on money held by the government. Two per cent is paid all depositors from the beginning of the following month. Applicants are requested to fill out a blank giving occupation, address, birthday, and other facts for identification before they are given their certificate of deposit and then are supplied with an envelope in which the succeeding certificates are kept and listed.

These Postal banks are running in a great many cities throughout the country and will probably be established in most of the cities of a size sufficient to warrant it within a short time.

CHICAGO DOCTORS TO USE CHLOROFORM TO STOP SUFFERING

Announce Today That They Will Not Use Enough to Kill But Will Keep Child Bitten by Mad Dog Under Its Influence.

[BY UNITED PRESS.]
Chicago, Sept. 23.—The famous question of medical ethics, whether it is ever justifiable for a physician to put an end to the suffering of an incurable patient revived by the alleged Shaker murder case in Florida, was renewed here today when physicians at the county hospital announced they intended to chloroform Earl Barrow, aged 7, and keep him under the influence of the drug until he died.

"They would not kill him but they will do nothing to prolong the suffering, they said. 'Two weeks ago the child was bitten on the nose by a pet dog. Today rabies set in. The child was taken to the Pasteur Institute and later to the county hospital. In wild agony he began biting himself and even tearing at furniture with his teeth. So the child was placed under the soothing influence of chloroform and he will never be permitted to come from under it."

IMPORTANT MATTERS FOR SCHOOL HEADS

Prominent Speakers Secured for Coming Meeting of City Superintendents at Madison.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., Sept. 23.—Speakers of national reputation have been secured for the annual meeting of the city superintendents of Wisconsin, called by Supt. C. P. Cary to be held in the assembly chamber in the capitol October 6-8. They will discuss with the superintendents various subjects. The most important feature of the convention is expected to be the submission by a committee appointed by the board of normal regents of a tentative course of study in geography, history and civics. The committees preparing these reports consist of teachers in normal schools and prominent city superintendents.

The preparation of this course of study on the part of the normal schools is said to mark a new era in normal school work in Wisconsin and from now on the doctrine of service will be emphasized in outlining normal school work. It is proposed to have the normal school directly aid the city superintendents as well as county superintendents in preparing courses of study and supervising the work. The outcome of the discussion on this topic is expected to bring about a more or less uniform treatment of these subjects in the normal schools and to enable teachers prepared in this manner to adapt themselves to the city school systems more directly.

TWILIGHT CLUB'S COMMITTEE ANNOUNCES WINNERS IN HOME IMPROVEMENT CONTEST GIVEN FOR CHILDREN IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS

REPORT HAS BEEN SUBMITTED GIVING THE WINNERS OF FIRST SEVEN PLACES IN EACH OF FIVE WARDS.

METHODS OF JUDGING

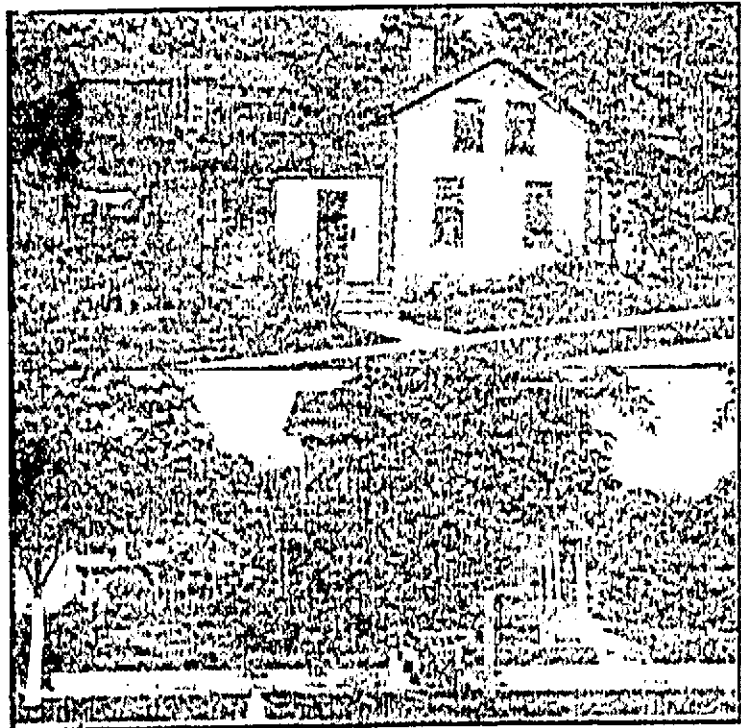

Committee Has Explained in Report That They Arrived At Decision Solely According To Amount of Improvements Shown in Homes Between Two Visits.

Announcement has been made by the committee of the Twilight Club in charge of the home improvement contest of the winners of the first seven places in each ward for which prizes were offered last spring at the closing of the spring term of school. The contest was suggested with the view of improving the homes in the city as extensively as possible, and was an outgrowth of the former contest for the prize given to the most improved school yard. It was desired wild cucumber vines planted by the sheds and any flower seeds planted and attended to would have necessarily won first prize. An hour's work once a week with five or ten cents spent for seeds, would have resulted in the boy or girl doing it, receiving seven dollars in money, besides the glory in winning the prize and the satisfaction of living in an improved place, but the opportunity was neglected and lost.

Nothing whatever was done, and the place was in exactly the same condition as it was when first examined. Possibly the child was discouraged and thought "I never can make this place look like Johnny's does." Father heart and not trying, never won a prize, but a little beginning and keeping steadily at it works wonders. While there were many places, where there was no change found, there were also many where the improvement was very marked.

It was a hard task to decide just who was entitled to the prizes, but the committee endeavored to award them strictly on the year's improvement and deciding on these points alone. Many places that have not received a prize showed hard work and much to broaden the scope so all school children who desired to enter the contest were registered and their homes inspected before and after the improvements were made.

Announcement of the results were made in the various schools of the city yesterday the winners of the first places in the first, second, third, fourth and fifth wards being respectively as follows: Marion Drummond, Rush Berg, Viola Pratt, Robert Lane, and Price James. The committee is fairly well satisfied with the result, although there were many places which could have been improved with little effort and would have been prize winners. The reason there was not more activity on the part of some, it is thought, was that they did not understand that the prizes were offered for the amount of improvement on the premises. The report of the committee is given in full as follows: The committee of the Twilight Club in charge of the school children's competition for the improvement of yards and premises in Janesville, hereby report their decisions and awards of prizes.

As will be remembered the Twilight Club inaugurated this competition by donating twenty five dollars for prizes for the most improvement in yards and premises. Various companies, merchants and citizens in order to have more interest taken, donated additional money, and goods, so that it was finally possible to offer seven prizes in each ward, or a total of thirty-five prizes, aggregating in value, one hundred and twelve dollars and fifty cents.

About five hundred children signed cards indicating their desire to compete for the prizes. The committee of ten closely examined all these places in the spring, marking the then condition of the premises in regard to lawns, shrubbery, vines, flowers, cleanliness and various other items, including general appearance on cards prepared for that purpose, and they have just gone over them again, and marked the changes and improvement, giving credit in points as determined by the committee and the prizes were awarded on the basis of those points.

It must be remembered that the prizes were given for the best and most improvement during the year and not for the best looking place. Therefore a person seeing a place now, which had obtained a prize, and one next, looking over so much better, which had not obtained a prize and not knowing the former conditions might question the judgment of the committee. But the poorer condition a place was in in the beginning, really increased its chances to obtain a prize, because it offered opportunity for the most improvement, while a place might be almost perfect in the beginning, so that even though hard work was put on it all summer, still it would not show as great a percentage of improvement as the poorer place. Pictures cannot show this improvement as they cannot show the condition in the start.

In this connection the committee wish to call attention to many neglected opportunities. There was one place in the second ward, (and the same in the other wards) which was probably the worst looking place examined. The shrubbery had grown riot, the house and walks were out of repair, the garden nothing but weeds, and the yards filled with tin cans and rubbish. A very little work each week, cutting weeds, raking the rubbish and whitewashing it away trimming the bushes, with a few nails driven in loose boards, together with a few morning glory or Praise for Piano Players.

In the course of the past few years an ingenious invention has made all departments of musical composition in a certain degree accessible even to those who are not expert pianists. "And aren't you afraid of those microbes in the ice water?" "No, sir we are jealous of them."

Tin and Crime.
One hundred and seventeen persons, chiefly habitual criminals, were banished for life from Perak last year. Of these ninety-nine were Chinese, twelve of whom had been convicted of participating in unlawful societies. When tin was high and the industry according to prosperous, inmates of jails were few, and vice versa.

COLLEGE NINE WINS FROM HIGH SCHOOL

DUPLICATES HIGH MARK OF SEASON

Exciting Baseball Game Between College and High School Nines Taken by the Former, 4 to 3.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Milton, Wis., Sept. 22.—Milton college won one of the most exciting games of baseball here today that has been played on the local diamond. The fast high school team scored the first run in the second inning and followed it up with another in the fifth. As Randolph was pitching steady ball this seemed like a safe lead, but in the sixth a collision at the plate caused a hurrican to drop Gaby's perfect throw from center and one run was scored by the Collegians. After two were out two more runs came across when Capt. Solden made a wild heave to the plate to cut off a runner. This gave the college the lead, but the high came back in the eighth and tied the count. Neither side did anything in the ninth. The high started the tenth off with a rush, getting two hits and two bases on balls, but over-anxiety on the bases caused two runners to get "milled" between bases, including the pitcher, who became "windmilled" before being run down. Before he had settled the Collegians had forced a run across the plate and won the game. The score:

College... 0 0 0 0 3 0 1—1 6 4
High School 0 1 0 0 1 0 0—3 8 3

The Janesville golf team proved their superiority over the Beloit team yesterday in a very one-sided match, the score being 29 to 6 in favor of the local aggregation. Where Honesty Predominates.

The most honest persons in the world are said to be residents of the vicinity of Ticino, in Switzerland. They will not touch anything which is not their own except to care for it, and lost articles are generally allowed to remain, where found or in the immediate vicinity, awaiting the return of the owner.

Another Story.

"What did you do when your husband told you the old, old story?" "I told him to shut up before he was hurt through!" "Why, what a funny way to reply to a confession of love!" "Oh, is that what you mean? I thought you meant the story he told last night when he came home from a time with the boys."

Not a Good Trade.

According to the Manhattan Trade school the millinery trade is not a very good one for women, as there is a slack season that takes away the profits of the busy season. The trade school found difficulty in selling hats made by the apprentices, and now will merely train milliners' assistants.

Remedy for Hoarseness.

A simple remedy for hoarseness and an irritating "tickling" in the throat consists of making a gargle of an egg beaten to a froth and adding half a glass of warm, sweetened water. Drink this every little while, rather than all at once, as most men drink all at once.

of diseases, where thousands of lives are sacrificed every year because of overcrowded and unsanitary conditions.

Old Trinity church, located on lower Broadway, and only a few blocks from the slum district, owns and operates scores of these filthy tenement blocks, and after the city had exhausted every effort to have them removed and replaced by modern structures, Brisbane took the matter in hand, and so aroused public sentiment in the interests of humanity that the owners of the property were compelled to act.

A few months ago when a crazy assassin attempted to take the life of Mayor Gaynor, as he was about to sail for Europe, no New York paper was more vehement in denunciation than the Journal, which Mr. Brisbane edited, but a part of his two-column editorial was addressed to the directors of the New York Central railroad, whom he mentioned by name and accused of murder in the first degree.

For many years this company had maintained and operated a freight track on 14th street, in the heart of the city, and the toll of death by accident had passed the 500 mark.

Because of political and financial influence the city was unable to get relief, either through the local or state government, and so people were maimed or killed without let or hindrance until Brisbane saw his opportunity. The war he waged on the great corporation was tireless and fearless, and the people were with him. As a result, the surface tracks have been removed.

People like to hear a man talk, and are glad to read what he has to say, when he gets down among them, and through brotherly sympathy attempts to lift them up and better their condition.

One of these friends of common humanity was a patient at the Mayo brothers' hospital in Rochester, Minn., not long ago, and when he returned to his home town in Kansas, 1,500 school children met him at the station to tell him how glad they were that he had recovered. That's fame of the highest order, for children are quick to recognize and appreciate friendship.

The journey of life is sometimes called a voyage, where every navigator sails his own craft and comes to anchor at last in a peaceful harbor, but it is more than that.

The journey of life is traversed over a dusty highway, and the never-ceasing throng is represented by travelers of all ages and conditions, yet having many things in common.

The army of children which bring up the rear guard of the column, are the offspring of a new generation. In normal condition, regardless of birth distinction, they are very much alike, easily satisfied, yet demanding constant care and attention.

The vanguard, at the other end of the procession, represents the veterans, wrinkled and scarred in the conflict, but beyond the age where much is required to satisfy ambition and make them happy.

Between these two extremes is life itself, with all its busy activities, and with all its tragedy and comedy incident to the journey.

The scramble to gain a foothold, and to retain it when gained, are incidents of the early years, and then comes the establishing of the home, the development of a calling, and adjustment of new conditions.

Scattered through the throng, which crowd the thoroughfare, are discouraged travelers, broken in health and fortune, while the badge of mourning is ever present as a silent token of grief and suffering.

From this complex field, the pulpit, the philanthropist and the press find a constituency, and the attention commanded, and amount of good accomplished depends largely upon the amount of human interest capital invested in the work.

The intellect may be slow to grasp abstract truth, but the heart is quick to respond to a touch of sympathy. The great foundation truths which make for character and destiny are a common heritage, and the rank and file of humanity are more interested in meeting well the responsibilities of the life that is, than in speculating on the conditions of the life to come.

The philanthropist who deals in medals, the writer who dishes out profundity, and the preacher who gathers inspiration from the dim and dusty past, and soars among the clouds in efforts to comprehend the super-natural, may all be filling a mission, but the constituency they reach is limited, compared to the great throng, eagerly waiting for the touch of a brother's hand and a word of encouragement to help them over the rough places.

It is often said that but little effort is required to make a child happy. The highway of life is crowded with a procession of children, of all ages, and this mixed multitude is happy in proportion to the investment of mutual effort along the lines of helpfulness.

Here is a little poem by Arthur B. Rhyno, suggestive of patience, and the home as a resting place:

"The journey will not end today,
For leagues and years may wind the way.
Where gleams the home-light, pilgrim, stay,
And bide a wee.

"When gale and blast and tempest blow,
And cold thy heart and icy grow,
Draw near the hearth, the homely glow,
And bide a wee.

"When life's symphony breathes defeat,
And hope declines in desert heat,
Do my oasis thy retreat,
And bide a wee.

"The journey will not end today,
For leagues and years may wind the way.
Where gleams the home-light, pilgrim, stay,
And bide a wee.

"When gale and blast and tempest blow,
And cold thy heart and icy grow,
Draw near the hearth, the homely glow,
And bide a wee.

"When life's symphony breathes defeat,
And hope declines in desert heat,
Do my oasis thy retreat,
And bide a wee.

"The journey will not end today,
For leagues and years may wind the way.
Where gleams the home-light, pilgrim, stay,
And bide a wee.

That seemed a song and proved a sigh?
The hope of home is heaven-high.
Ah, bide a wee!

ON THE SPUR OF THE MOMENT

Copyright, 1911, by C. N. Mather.

THE ETERNAL FEMINE.

Mother has a patient manner
And her talk's discreet,
And her disposition's ever
What you would call sweet.
Very little that
Will disturb her mind,
And she has a reputation

For a heart most kind.
You cannot arouse her temper
Over least a smail.
And sometimes seems as though she Can't get mad at all.
She is calm, serene and hopeful;
Has a cheerful word,
And she looks upon all worry
As a thing absurd.
But there's one thing that will get her
Once in every year,
And when that comes it is never Safe to linger near.
For she surely goes to pieces
And reversed form
In a manner that presages
A domestic storm.
Then she voices her opinion
And we'd hate to tell
Just the line of talk she gives us
When her hell won't tell.

HAS IT EVER OCCURRED TO YOU?
The company calls and you decide to sit in a while. During the course of the conversation you hear a great many things that you never heard before.

Your wife, for instance, informs the caller that she has ordered a splendid suit that cost only $40 and is such a bargain, too. You didn't hear a word about this and it comes as quite a surprise. Then she tells the caller that her folks are coming to spend the summer. You didn't know this either, and when you hear her tell the caller that your daughter has finally decided to attend Vassar for three or four years that her new $15 hat has just arrived from the millinery store and that it is a perfect dream; that she has subscribed $100 to the church fund and that she has given away your second best suit to a poor blind man.

Of course she is only breaking these things to you gently and she knows perfectly well that you can't dare to excite before the company.

Has it ever occurred to you? You know it has. Many times.

SOME HOUSEHOLD INFELICITIES.
"Oh, George! There you are tracking mud all over the parlor rug again. I guess you think pumping that vacuum cleaner is nothing but a circus for me."

"Say, Madge, on the level now, did anybody ever tell you that you know how to cook?"

"What did you do with the $2 I gave you last month, Joe? You must think I pick money off the 'busboys.'"

"I never knew a woman yet that could stoke a furnace or sharpen a lead pencil."

"Why in thunder do you always put a napkin under my plate and none under your own? Think I am going to spoil the tablecloth?"

"See whiz! That lemon pie in the ice quinine. Do you think I am a poison squad?"

THE WAIL OF THE SWATTER.
I swatted them all morning long. For 'Swat Em' is my motto. I got them cornered in one room and used your patent swatter. I swatted them with vengeance till my strength had all departed. But there were seven hundred more. Then when to even I started.

ACCORDING TO UNCLE ABNER.
It doesn't make much difference how much money a feller has got just so he has got plenty of it, and a man doesn't have to live to be a hundred and fifty years old to find that out, either.

A town without a brass band is like a family without a phonograph. It is liable to worry along and have a pretty good time in life.

When you see a feller lookin' at himself in a plate glass window, it is only another proof that nature makes a mistake once in a while and puts points on a feller when he should have skirts.

Another thing that Job never did was to try to unscrew the top off'n a glass fruit jar.

But Perkins is so starchy that he stole a ham so that he could be sent to the county jail and get a hair cut for nothing.

Miss Lunt Spink, our village milliner, says competition is so fierce in her line that there ain't more than six per cent profit in trimmed hats any more, and she is thinkin' of goin' out of business.

Aunt Tuttle has freshened up the cash that has stood in the bar' in front of his grocery for nine years by givin' it a coat of white paint, and anybody who wants nice fresh cash from now on, will find no better place to buy it.

Amos Turk, our gentlemanly undertaker, also livery, feed and sales stable, is about disgusted with business conditions. The last doctor we had moved out'n town eight months ago and nobody has died since.

Leon Prindle has got stools along in front of his lunch counter. Guess he is afraid folks won't stand for the food.

Lafe Jackin's little son Clarence has got a splendid sense of humor and Lafe is sure when he grows up he will get a job writin' foreclosures for the weather bureau.

No man is such a failure in life that he doesn't believe he is still qualified to write in and tell the editor how to run the paper.

There is only one thing you get as regular in a country hotel as roast beef and brown gravy and that is roast pork and apple sauce.

Goat as a Business Asset.
A goat lives about ten years and will give about a quart of milk a day.

SCRIPTURE.

PSALMS 96: 1-13.

O sing unto the Lord a new song: sing unto the Lord, all the earth.
Sing unto the Lord, bless his name: show forth his salvation from day to day.

Declare his glory among the heathen, his wonders among all people.
For the Lord is great, and greatly to be praised: he is to be feared above all gods.

For all the gods of the nations are idols: but the Lord made the heavens.
Honour and majesty are before him: strength and beauty are in his sanctuary.

Give unto the Lord, O ye kindreds of the people, give unto the Lord glory and strength.
Give unto the Lord the glory due unto his name: bring an offering, and come into his courts.

O worship the Lord in the beauty of holiness: fear before him, all the earth.
Say among the heathen that the Lord reigneth: the world also shall be established that he shall not be moved: he shall judge the people righteously.

Let the heavens rejoice, and let the earth be glad; let the sea roar, and the fulness thereof.
Let the field be joyful, and all that is therein: then shall all the trees of the wood rejoice.

Before the Lord: for he cometh, for he cometh to judge the earth: he shall judge the world with righteousness and the people with his truth.

He Did His Best.

"I tried my best to save the ladies; I'm sorry I did not succeed," said the dying words of the valiant, whose magnificent bravery at the terrible disaster in the Barnes bathhouse at Nantucket should live long in the annals of the island. "His best" was his life; more no man can give. That was not the service of a paid personal attendant, but gallantry in the face of death on the part of a gentleman and a hero. In the record of the Book of Gold there is no distinction of master and man.

Vegetable Caterpillar. A vegetable caterpillar from the planting of a true caterpillar is among the marvels of the Pink Terrace region of New Zealand. Eating some tempting fungus spores on its way to its final burrow, the creature becomes transformed into a wood-like mass of fungus, with form and structure preserved. The caterpillar is now a veritable root, from which a stem shoots up eight or ten inches, dropping other fungus spores.

Value of Pineapple Juice. An old pineapple grower tells strange stories about the effect of the juice of the fruit upon certain substances. The juice of the pine is supposed to do more for the larynx than anything else in the world. Says the grower: "Drop a piece of leather into a glass of pineapple juice and see how quickly it will be eaten up."

White Man's Burden. As a general thing we are quite sorry for the man who has to work for a living and maintain a set of neat little side-whiskers at the same time.

To Clean Furniture. To take marks off varnished furniture wet a sponge in common spirits of camphor, and apply it freely. It has nearly, if not quite, the same effect as varnish, and much cheaper.

Forgetting the Middleman. Hiram Harlick (in city cafe looking over menu)—Tomatoes twenty cents. Does that mean by the peck or half bushel?

"His best" was his life; more no man can give. That was not the service of a paid personal attendant, but gallantry in the face of death on the part of a gentleman and a hero. In the record of the Book of Gold there is no distinction of master and man.

Vegetable Caterpillar. A vegetable caterpillar from the planting of a true caterpillar is among the marvels of the Pink Terrace region of New Zealand. Eating some tempting fungus spores on its way to its final burrow, the creature becomes transformed into a wood-like mass of fungus, with form and structure preserved. The caterpillar is now a veritable root, from which a stem shoots up eight or ten inches, dropping other fungus spores.

Value of Pineapple Juice. An old pineapple grower tells strange stories about the effect of the juice of the fruit upon certain substances. The juice of the pine is supposed to do more for the larynx than anything else in the world. Says the grower: "Drop a piece of leather into a glass of pineapple juice and see how quickly it will be eaten up."

White Man's Burden. As a general thing we are quite sorry for the man who has to work for a living and maintain a set of neat little side-whiskers at the same time.

To Clean Furniture. To take marks off varnished furniture wet a sponge in common spirits of camphor, and apply it freely. It has nearly, if not quite, the same effect as varnish, and much cheaper.

Forgetting the Middleman. Hiram Harlick (in city cafe looking over menu)—Tomatoes twenty cents. Does that mean by the peck or half bushel?

He Did His Best. "I tried my best to save the ladies; I'm sorry I did not succeed," said the dying words of the valiant, whose magnificent bravery at the terrible disaster in the Barnes bathhouse at Nantucket should live long in the annals of the island. Ingenious Old Clock

Wells (Eng.) has a wonderful clock one of the oldest in the world, which dates from 1325. When it strikes the hour four lights on horseback go round, and the seated man
kicks two small bells with his heels, as he has been doing every fifteen minutes for eight hundred years.
This clock was the work of Peter Lichtfoot, another monk of Glouster-bury.

Colonial School Days

In Colonial days school buildings were small and uncomfortable. Benches were without backs, the desks only a shelf in most cases and oftentimes there was only the bare earth for a floor. The hours of study were long and the play hours few and short.
One's heart is moved to pity only to read of the poor little backwoods children, driven in about sunrise and driven out toward dusk, after hours of mental and physical discomfort.

Fashions Change Little

From the frozen paintings of women in the Creton palaces of the period about 2,000 B. C. it is learned that the women of that time plucked in their waists, had flounced or accented plated skirts, wore an elaborate coil fure on their heads, shoes with high heels and hats which might have come from a Parisian hat shop, while one woman might be described as wearing a jupon culotte.

Remains of Old-Time Fortresses

Archaeological researches made at a spot some 20 miles from Kars, Russia, have brought to light a completely intact stone fortress of prehistoric date. The masonry of the primitively designed fort and bastions is somewhat roughly, but extremely well built. Among the many and various objects found are quite a number of well-preserved figures of bearded gods, mostly in animal forms and in a kind of hard-baked potter's clay.

ARRAIGNS MAXFIELD FOR ACTION TAKEN AGAINST RAILROAD

ATTORNEY THOMAS S. NOLAN
FOR INTERURBAN COMPANY, LAYS RESPONSIBILITY FOR MANY THINGS AT CITY
ATTORNEY'S DOOR.

HE IS VERY EMPHATIC

Calls Maxfield "Nondescript" Lawyer
Who is Charged With Having Blocked Many Improvements
On Local Street Car Line.

Following the action taken on last Monday evening by the common council authorizing the city attorney to take steps to compel the company to resume the use of its tracks on South
Franklin street, Attorney Thomas S.
Nolan, who is the legal representative of the Interurban company, has issued a statement in which he charges the city attorney with being responsible for the action which forced the company to abandon its tracks on South Franklin street.
Nolan also states that other improvements which the local traction company had planned with regard to its line in this city were abandoned because of Mr. Maxfield's officiousness in bringing actions against the company. It is declared that improvements costing $100,000 which were planned for the Janesville street car line in improved service were given up.

Mr. Nolan, in his arraignment of City Attorney Maxfield, speaks in no uncertain terms. The statement is as follows:

"If the nondescript who, unfortunately, through the temporary mental derangement of the voters of the city of Janesville, now occupies the office of city attorney, keeps on, he will soon have a city here that will be as quiet and unexciting as the little town in the township of Janesville, where he originated."

"Just before the present owners of the local street railway company acquired the property he began a proceeding before the Railroad Commission to compel the Janesville Street Railway company to resume operation of the Forest Park line, when the property was about to be taken over by the new company this matter was still pending. One of the extensive projects of the new company was a loop taking in Forest Park, running over Garfield boulevard, or one of those north and south streets in that vicinity of the town, going past the fair grounds and connecting up with the main line on Milton avenue.
Mr. Maxfield stated that he would certainly make the Janesville Street Railway company resume operations on Jackson street. The new company did not desire to build on Jackson street
but it awaited the result of the proceeding which he had instituted, not making any appropriation or releasing any money for the loop mentioned. In due course the Railroad Commission denied his application, but owing to the delay, not knowing just what would be the outcome, the plan for a loop in that part of the town was abandoned. It will probably be years now, if ever, before this extension will be made. Mr. Maxfield is to blame for this loop not being built and the cars
in operation over it now."

"I claim, also, that all the damage suits against the Rockford & Interurban Railway company would be settled, and the interurban railroad operating on the west side today, if it were not for him. When a representative of the company stated that unless these suits were dismissed it would bring its cars in on the east side of the river, there was every indication that the cases would be dismissed, as the property-owners on the west side did not, apparently, like to see the road leave. Mr. Maxfield, however, made it his business to tell one after another of the property-owners there that the railroad could not return, that if it did he would compel it to return.
The result was that the people who instituted damage suits refused to dismiss their actions, believing the statements made by Mr. Maxfield."

"About this time the Janesville Traction company had made its plans and intended building a line from West Milwaukee street, from somewhere in the vicinity of the Grand hotel, down through the fourth ward, getting as near as practicable to the State Institute for the Blind. When Mr. Maxfield's threats were made known, all thought of this extension was given up. People living in the western part of the fourth ward, and those who own property out toward the State Institute for the Blind should know who is to blame for their not having a street railway."

"The people in this city should be advised that the course pursued by Mr. Maxfield in relation to these matters has stopped the expenditure this year of at least $100,000 by the local street railway company."

"A good many of us are hoping that we may have interurban connection with Edgerton, Stoughton and Madison soon, but the people I represent are not going to spend a dollar more than necessary in this city, or in addition, let so long as the citizens permit their enterprises to be persecuted and annoyed by such men as Maxfield."

The First Thimble.
The thimble of plain sewing was invented in the year 1684 by a gallant young Dutch goldsmith of Amsterdam, who devised the "thumb-bell"—for this was its original name—in order to protect his sweetheart's thumb tips
when she was engaged with a needle and cotton. The "thumb bell" has, however, become a "finger-bell," but in shape only little change has taken place in it since the loving thumb placed the first thimble on the thumb of this lady love.

Well Occupied.

Smith, Probably Oct. 2.

Hon. George R. Peck of Chicago, formerly head counsel for the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad, will present the resolutions of the Rock County Bar association, commemorating the death of the late William Smith at the October term of the circuit court. The date for the exercises

Similar resolutions will also be pre-

Following the death of Mr. Smith, the bar association held a meeting and appointed a committee, of which Thomas S. Nolan was chairman, to prepare resolutions memorializing Mr.
Smith and present them before the circuit and supreme courts. Mr. Nolan immediately communicated with Mr.
Peck, who was a lifelong friend of Mr.
Smith, and Mr. Peck consented to prepare the resolutions and present them.
Accordingly, Mr. Nolan resigned as chairman of the committee and Mr.
Peck was appointed in his place.

Mr. Peck has been in poor health for some time past, and if he is unable to present the resolutions at the opening day of the circuit court term, the services will be postponed to such time as is most convenient for him.

Uncomplimentary Comparison.
A Philadelphia school director is mostly bald, and one of his sons took advantage of the fact to make plain to his teacher his understanding of geography. The teacher had defined a desert as a barren tract, and in order to impress the pupils with it she had asked them to define it and give an example. When the school director's boy was questioned he answered promptly and correctly, and by way of illustration said: "A desert is a great big tract that's barren, like pa's head an inch above his ears."

Savages Use Finger Bowl.
A student of manners and customs informs us that the finger bowl is not an invention of civilized peoples. On the contrary, the finger bowl is indigenous to the South Sea islands, though it does not follow that the western world has copied the east in this respect. The bowl which is passed after a meal in the house on a South Sea island is the half of a coconut shell, which is thrown away
after being once used.

Sweet Drinks in Burma.
There are no soda fountains in Rangoon. A large amount of aerated water is sold throughout Burma. The English population consumes an immense quantity of soda for the national drink of whisky and soda, and also some ginger beer and bottled lemonade. The natives, however, prefer the highly sweetened and colored drinks, such as rose water, pineapple, cream soda, etc.

JANESVILLE FILMS SHOWN NEXT WEEK

Films Recently Taken by E. H. Lou-thain of Points of Interest in This City Will Be Shown.

Much interest has been aroused among the theatre-going public in this city, owing to the fact that several hundred feet of motion picture film of various things of interest in this city has been taken by E. H. Louthain, motion picture machine operator at the Majestic theatre, and will be shown there next week.

Mr. Louthain secured the permission of the officials to have the Fire Department of this city make an exhibition run, which he secured with his camera. The mayor, J. C. Nichols, turned in the alarm and the run was made from the department house on River street, up Milwaukee street as far as Jackson.

This being the first time that the taking of motion pictures has been attempted, a large crowd was in evidence near where the run was to be made and watched with great interest both the taking of the film and the spectacular run which the department made.

Mr. Louthain is an expert photographer and had his camera located on an auto truck on Jackson St. and secured an excellent picture of all the department, the chief and his auto,
the engines, trucks, etc.

In addition to the fire run pictures have been taken of interest here such as the fire department houses, several stores, the court house and park, etc.,
and will project them at the Majestic theatre Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons and evenings of next week.

W. R. C. GAVE RECEPTION AT HALL LAST NIGHT

At G. A. R. hall last evening the members of the Woman's Relief Corps surprised the members of W. H. Sargent Post G. A. R. and gave a farewell reception for Robert Scott of Poultney, Vt., who has been visiting in the city, and Mr. and Mrs.
George H. Osgood, who leave this month for Los Angeles, Cal. A pleasing program of musical numbers, all taking part in the singing, was given and a most delightful evening spent.
Refreshments were served. Mr. Scott returned to his home this evening and a large number of his comrades are planning to accompany him to the train and give him a rousing send-off. He was for a number of years sexton of Oak Hill cemetery.

PIE TONGS USEFUL ARTICLE

If for No Other Purpose They Will at Least Keep Cook's Fingers
Out of Dish.

An addition has been made to the long family in the shape of a pair of pie tongs. They are the work of a Connecticut genius and enable the cook to take a pie about without touching it with her fingers. Two pieces of heavy wire are doubled upon themselves so that they form gripping members at one end. The other end is inserted in a handle. Midway along the wires are rectangular plates which are pivoted upon each other, making what resembles a big pair of scissors. Pies usually run a little over the edge of the plate and cannot be picked up without the fingers coming into contact with the crust, to say nothing of the difficulty in picking them up when they are not on a plate without a great deal of handling. The tongs overcome this difficulty as the gripping ends lap over far enough to pick up the pie and support it firmly.

The committee express the hope that the competition may be continued another year and that more children will actively compete. They believe that it would result in a humbler and better looking city, and awaken a pride in the good looks and cleanliness of the houses, that would result in Janesville's standing at the head in this respect.

The committee also wish to thank the merchants who have so kindly contributed to the prizes and they hope the children will keep up the good work next year whether it is determined to continue the prizes or not.

DELIGHTFUL PARTY AT EDGERTON HOME

Friends Gathered at Home of Mrs. James Spike Last Evening—Other News of Edgerton.

EDGERTON, Sept. 23.—What proved a most pleasant and social event was a surprise party held last evening on Mrs. James Spike at her home in the west part of the city. A full-sized company of ladies, composed of neighbors and friends, gathered and spent a pleasant evening with the surprised hostess. The event was in the nature

VETERAN ENGINEER IN LOCAL SERVICE

Well Known Railway Man and Resident of Janesville Is No. 13 on List of Northwestern Engineers.

"Maurice" Smith needs no introduction to the large number of railway men that frequent the local yards and shops. His gray hairs and beard and the wrinkled face that are usually considered unmistakable signs of old age and that might disqualify the average man for strenuous labor are well known to all the local bunch and to many others on the Northwestern system throughout this and neighboring states. To all the men who run through here it seems that his good natured face and a slightly drooping face that belies his youthful spirit and energy are so firmly stamped upon their memories that he is considered a permanent fixture of the Northwestern system.

His term of service on that line, too, would seem to prove that he is entitled to consideration in that respect. It

November 28, 1845, and this city has been his home during all his life. For five years, between 1883 and 1891, he served as engineer on a passenger run on the Milwaukee division and from that time until a few years ago he was on duty on the way freight. For about three years he has been on duty in the local yards and at present is with Conductor Anderson on the "Sunrise Limited." Both of these men are shown in the accompanying cut. To all the men he is familiarly known as "Maurice" and his genial good nature has won and will hold them all in his friendship.

A special train went through this city at about 4:30 this morning loaded with ticket and passenger agents from the eastern and middle states who were returning from a convention held in Minneapolis.

The Warham-Alton circus train went through here from Watertown at 10:30 today.

Fireman Kothlow went out on 31 this morning.

Another special went north this morning with the agents of the Studebaker company, who are making a tour through the northwest.

was. The time of the funeral has not been decided as the family are awaiting the arrival of the latter son.

It was later announced that arrangements had been made to hold the funeral at half past two tomorrow afternoon.

Protect Silk Stockings.

When you want to squander your surplus wealth—if you ever have any—let your toe nails grow and then buy and wear silk stockings. Each pair can be safely guaranteed to develop nice large holes in two days' time.

But for the rest of us who dote on silk stockings and have only one or two pairs to go through the season with, devices such as the toe guard and top protector are welcomed, because they will prolong the life of our fragile silk treasures.

The toe guard is a mitten effect which slips first over the toes before you draw on the stocking and prevents the friction against the stocking. The top protector is most practical to prevent the hose supporter from tearing stitches in the silk stocking. It is made of chamolite skin, and is fastened to the hose supporter in the first place and regularly laid between stocking and supporter fixture, so that the fragile silk is quite protected.

Spring Hats.

Miss Lillian Russell, at a luncheon at Sherry's in New York, was talking about the Easter hat of 1911.

"It is to be tall," said Miss Russell. "The new French beauty, Mlle. Lantime, has settled that. The Lantime hat, which all Paris is raving over, has in the back a plume that rises up almost to the clouds."

"What do you think of my new hat?" a young girl asked me in Fifth Avenue the other day. "Don't you think it's a poem?"

"I looked at it. It was a genuine Lantime. The plume in the rear was nearly three feet high."

"Hardly a poem, my dear," I said. "Rather a short story."

Very Strong.

"I see," said Slaters, "that our old friend Binkins had a strong article in one of the Boston papers the other day."

"Really?" said Binkins, incredulously. "I'd never have believed that of old Bink. What was it?"

"A recipe for pickled onions," said Slaters.—Harper's Weekly.

Desert Railroad.

Egypt has a desert railroad which runs 45 miles in a straight line; but the longest straight piece of railway-line in the world is from Nyngan to Bourke, in New South Wales. This railway runs 126 miles on a level in a straight line.

English Manners Criticized.

A man shoves past a woman on a staircase, or he leaves her standing while he sits. He comes into a crowded public room with his hat on and talks loudly, as if all the place belonged to him. His womenkind do the same. At present the workingman has the best manners, the middle class the worst.—London Graphic.

According to the Vinland Vine there is a fortune in store for the man who will successfully cross the black bass with the mosquito, retaining the size of the former and the biting qualities of the other.

Useful New Substance.

"Reahite" is the name of a new substance invented in Germany, useful as a substitute for celluloid and ivory. It renders wood, paper and pasteboard impervious and makes pine, for example, so hard that it rapidly dulls a planer.

His Opportunity.

"I am in love with a young lady who is deaf and near-sighted," wrote the young man. "Should I marry her?" "You not only should," remarked the snake editor, who was temporarily doing the query editor's work, "but if she is blind and deaf you probably can!"—Apostrophe.

SAVED MANY A DOCTOR BILL. PE-RU-NA'S NEED IN FAMILY.

MRS. ELINORE BARRETT.

Peruna a Family Necessity.

Mrs. Elinore Barrett, 810 South Lincoln St., Robinson, Illinois, writes: "I just want to tell you what a wonderful medicine I have found Peruna to be in my family. I have used it for years, and I am sure it has saved me many and many a doctor bill."

"I first used it myself and found it cured me. Then my little girl was cured of a dreadful case of catarrh of the head."

"I always have a bottle of Peruna in my house, as I think it a real necessity where there is a family."

Colds and Catarrh.

Mrs. M. F. Jones, Durling Springs, Ky., writes: "We have been using Peruna for some time, and have no hesitancy in recommending it for the 'one thousand and one' ailments of humanity. No family should ever be without it, for it is an unfailing cure for colds, and it is an excellent remedy to prevent and relieve croup."

"And to speak from a standpoint of experience I can candidly say that it is the remedy for internal catarrh (as I am one of the many unfortunate in this respect). From a personal test and from the testimony of many others I shall not hesitate to recommend it, especially to all suffering women."

"Peruna has gained full confidence and a permanent stay in our home."

Catarrh for Years—Peruna Relieved.
Mrs. Alice Bogie, 803 Clinton St., Circleville, Ohio, writes: "I want to inform you what Peruna has done for me."

"I have been afflicted with catarrh for several years. I have tried different medicines and none seemed to do me any good until I used Peruna. I have taken six bottles and can proudly say highly for the good it has done me."

"I also find it of great benefit to my children."

was on March 16, 1874 that Mr. Smith, then about twenty-nine years of age, enlisted with this railway company to learn the transportation business. About five years later he was enrolled as a qualified engineer and during the thirty-two years since then has served in that capacity. This makes a term of thirty-seven years which this veteran railway man has served with one employer, a term that is rather unusual in length.

At present he stands thirteenth on the list of engineers in the employ of the Northwestern company. Although he is almost sixty-six years of age and sometimes is reminded by others that his advancing age and length of service should entitle him to a lay-off on the pension list he scoffs at the idea and declares that his period of usefulness is by no means at an end. He can still clamber in and out of his engine as actively as many of the younger men in the same business. And he points with pride to this activity as convincing evidence that he will not consent for many years to be laid on the shelf.

Mr. Smith was born in Janesville on

Mrs. Samuel Godfrey Passed Away Friday Morning After a Long Illness—Was Early Resident.

Johnstown, Sept. 23.—Mrs. Samuel Godfrey, for many years a resident here, passed away Friday morning, Sept. 22, shortly after ten o'clock. Death came following an illness of about one year, but the deceased had been in poor health for the past five years. She was born at Maghera, Perry county, Ireland, October 11, 1847, and came to America while a young girl.

Besides her husband, she leaves three sons, Lewis and Frank of this place, and Chas. of Walton, Kan.

TODAY'S EVANSVILLE NEWS

EVANSVILLE HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS ENJOY RECEPTION

Three Upper Class of Evansville High School Entertained in D. Lightful Manner in Honor of Freshmen.

Evansville, Sept. 23.—What was without doubt the most enjoyable reception ever given to the Freshmen class of the Evansville high school took place last evening at the home of Miss Beth Baker, when the upper classes entertained in honor of the Freshmen. The faculty of the high school and the grade school teachers were also guests of honor and enjoyed the entertainment as much as the young people.

The affair was in charge of the presidents of the three classes: Stanley Gillies for the Seniors; Marion Calkins for the Juniors; and Frank Gabriel for the Sophomores. These latter mentioned also appointed three others to aid in the arrangements: Helen Colman, Deryl Patterson and Esther Franklin.

The entertainment was given on the spacious lawn of the Baker home, which was brilliantly lighted with Japanese lanterns and electric lights. A stage was fitted up between two trees, which was completely furnished with a back ground of attractive scenery and a row of footlights.

Promptly at eight o'clock the curtain was raised for the cleverest and most ingenious and original program, which has ever been presented here. The first selection was "The Lark," which was sung by the Seniors. A stage was fitted up between two trees, which was completely furnished with a back ground of attractive scenery and a row of footlights.

The Freshmen orations proved a very novel "stunt" as certain members of the class were forced to recite comic selections for the entertainment of the guests. All were very well given, but one of the speakers turned the tables on the upper classes by reciting an oration of his own choice.

The lamentable tragedy of Blue Beard was given presented by Deryl Patterson as Blue Beard; Stanley Gillies, his wife; Marion Calkins, his sister Anne; and Everett Van Patton, brother Harry. This was a great success and was thoroughly enjoyed as was also the exhibition of eight and nine rope walking by Lyle Fisher.

He appeared in a most "gorgeous" costume and held the audience spellbound during his various feats. Sherlock Holmes, the latest dramatic work of the season, the original production of Miss Helen Colony, and was a great success. The leading part was taken by Deryl Patterson, cow-boy, Mr. Evans, villain, and Brooks Gabriel, colleague, Lucile Johnson, landlady, and Esther Franklin, her maid. Mr. Waddell, mine inspector, and Miss Helen Colony, her daughter.

The exhibition of fancy dancing by Miss Beth Baker in costume was most graceful and pretty and most enthusiastically received.

The next number was a selection from the March oratorio under the leadership of Misses Katie Dill and Dill. This like the others was very humorous. The dance from the opera Alice in Wonderland, Twiddle Dee Dee, was given by Miss Beth Baker and Miss Ada Heron, following which the concluding number, a male quartet, accompanied by a Victor-Victrola, by Miss Helen Colony who displayed remarkable qualities as a "stloner" singer. Refreshments were served between the acts and everything combined to make the occasion the most enjoyable ever held.

WAYS TO COOK EGGS

SOME NEW AND A FEW THAT ARE WELL KNOWN.

Spanish Style Popular With Those Who Like a Highly Seasoned Dish—Delicious When Served With Melted Cheese.

Spanish Eggs.—Cook two cups of raw tomatoes with a chopped-up sweet pepper, frying the two in a tablespoonful of butter. Add paprika, salt and a teaspoonful of finely minced chives, and reduce to half the quantity, which will take about 10 or 15 minutes. Toast slices of white bread, put poached eggs on top, and pour over the tomato and pepper sauce. Serve at once.

Poor-Woman Eggs.—Heat a little butter in an earthenware dish and then break six or more—or fewer—eggs into it, and sprinkle over fresh bread crumbs. Set the dish in the oven and let it cook for two minutes or until the eggs turn. Add salt, white pepper and a tablespoonful of olive oil, flavored with a little garlic and made hot, and serve right away.

Eggs and Mushrooms.—Peel, wash and drain a quart of a pound of fresh mushrooms. Place them in a saucepan with a tablespoonful of good butter, and season with salt, white pepper and two drops of lemon juice. Cover the saucepan and cook for 12 minutes on a moderate fire. Add two tablespoonfuls of good Madeira wine, letting this simmer to one-half, which will take a very few minutes. Prepare six poached eggs, put them on a hot dish over the sauce, with the mushrooms piled in the center, and serve piping hot.

Eggs and Melted Cheese.—Grate two ounces of Parmesan cheese in a baking dish; set it on the fire, adding half a glassful of white wine, a pinch of minced parsley, a little chopped chives, one ounce of good butter, and salt and pepper to taste. Stir thoroughly while cooking and when the cheese is melted break six eggs in a bowl, pour them into the sauce and stir all together until the eggs are turned, but not too well done. Serve on hot fried toast.

Omelet With Herbs.—Break six eggs in a bowl, adding a pinch of finely chopped parsley, half a pinch of chives and half a cupful of sweet cream. Beat the whole without stopping for four minutes; then melt a little butter in a pan and when it begins to crackle pour in the eggs, letting them cook on one side for about three minutes; fold over carefully with a pancake turner, letting the inside get more solid, then slide the omelet onto a hot dish, baste with melted butter, add a fine sprinkle of raw parsley and serve at once. The salt and pepper are bent on up with the eggs.

Simple and Delicious Dessert.

Take as many good baking apples as desired, pare and core with apple corer; fill the centers with sugar and sprinkle sugar over them; place in a baking pan with sufficient water to keep from burning and bake in oven until soft. Serve either hot or cold with a sauce made as follows: One pint milk, yolks of three eggs, half cup sugar, one teaspoon cornstarch, pinch salt, juice of half a lemon. Beat the yolks, sugar, cornstarch and half cup of milk together, stir into the pint of hot milk and cook until as thick as cream. The baked apples and cream sauce make a most delicious combination.

DAIRY NOTES

A cross-bred cow is a mistake.

Each cow's udder should be thoroughly cleaned before milking.

Bloody milk or that from a sick cow should never be mixed with wholesome milk.

The uncured cans of milk should be kept in cold water until they are delivered to the creamery.

The use of mauls in dairy windows instead of glass is said to lessen the danger from disease germs.

The secret of success in the dairy business is, test the cows, keep records, figure, know and do not guess.

The milk from a new milch cow should not be brought to the creamery until at least a full week after the cow has calved.

The stable should not be cleaned or brushed nor should floors or roughage be fed until after all the cows of the herd are milked.

All milk cans should be washed first in cold water then thoroughly cleaned with warm water and finally rinsed in scalding hot water.

It really requires little care and attention to maintain milk and cream in a clean, sweet condition even during hot, sultry weather.

Compare this Magnificent $1500 45-Horsepower Touring Car With Any Other Similar Car And See the Great Difference in Price

NO matter what you buy you must make some kind of a comparison to determine values. Every time you fail to do this you lose money. And the more carefully and thoroughly you make your comparison the more secure and satisfied you will feel with what you have bought. No article requires a closer or more thoughtful comparison of values than an automobile. It represents a lot of money. And if you can save ten, twenty or thirty per cent it is worth while. When you buy your car, bear this in mind.

A comparison of our Model 61-T (shown below) with any other car of similar size will give you a good understanding of its value. The main facts concerning it are as follows:

It is a big five-passenger touring car. The body is finished in that dark rich Brewster green with ivory striping. All of the bright parts are nickel plated. The big massive hump are dark black, trimmed with heavy polished nickel. We doubt if an automobile could be made more striking and handsome. And it is big—having a wheel base of 118 inches. Like all of our cars the shifting levers and door handles are on the inside, leaving all the long sweeping body lines graceful and unbroken; the upholstery is of the best leather and carefully worked by the most skilled body builders. It has a powerful 45-horsepower motor. The selective transmission is fitted with F. & S. annular ball bearings. No finer are made. The front axle is a drop type. The rear axle is a drop type. The rear axle full floating. Timken bearings. Most every one concedes that Timken axle bearings are the best on the American market. The frame is of pressed steel with double drop. It has a Bosch magneto. Tires 34x4 inches. These few facts give you an idea of the car's good thorough construction. At the best you will not find its equal for less than $2000.

Just get these few specifications in your mind. Check them against any other car of similar size, and see how much more the other car will cost. And this is the only way you can give yourself a square deal. No guide only your own judgment. Take our car and its facts—and the other maker's car and its facts. Go over each value carefully, and see which offers you the most in an automobile for the least amount of money.

The book we refer to last week should be read before you buy your car. It contains facts and sensible arguments concerning our manufacturing ability to make an automobile for less than other manufacturers. It shows why the factory making 20,000 cars, such as we do, can give you more car for less money than the factory making a smaller quantity. It will assist you in your comparisons and thoroughly inform you what an automobile is, and how it is made. It also shows our complete 1912 line. Write for catalogue A-29 today.

CIGAR WRAPPERS AS RESULT OF PRIMING ARE GROWN IN CITY

CROP OF EIGHTEEN ACRES RAISED FOR S. B. HEDDLES IS FIRST SUCCESSFUL TRIAL IN THIS STATE.

MAY MARK NEW ERA

In Tobacco Culture of Wisconsin.—Estimated Yield of 1,200 Pounds of Wrappers Per Acre and Like Amount of "B's" in Addition.—Methods Explained.

What has proved to be the first experiment of open field priming Wisconsin Havana Seed Tobacco in Wisconsin for cigar wrappers, has been between 30 and 35. Many of them grow in size to 24 inches long and 14 inches wide, and are of an excellent filler quality. The total estimated yield per acre is 1,200 pounds.

The top sprouts are allowed to blossom as the old plant, and are then topped as high as possible in order to secure the largest possible number of leaves. Mr. Heddles' field at the time of the last topping presented the appearance of a veritable flower garden.

Mr. Heddles' crop this season has been a pronounced success and may serve to revolutionize the tobacco culture of Wisconsin. The wrappers which can be grown here in this way will be most valuable, and will mean many more cents per pound, probably a doubling, in the price received. While the introduction of this method of raising tobacco into Wisconsin will come slowly, it is believed by many of the growers and much interested, that it will be extensively employed in time as the returns are much larger for the amount of labor.

The man who sells me humble bees and boots and shoes and sweeter cheese will have my trade for years to come, because he sells me nothing but good.

THE WISE DEALER never takes my hard-earned kale for goods inferior and stale, and when he sells me honest wheat, and says: "This simply can't be beat," I know the goods will not be junk—he never lies about his junk. I need to buy my pumpkins and things from Jimmie—now his hands he wrings because I chase myself no more to patronize his one horse store. He used to show me tempting beans and succulent and other greens, and I would order some and say: "I want the kind you've shown today." And then he'd send me wilted truck that made me want to run amok. And when I visited his store, to ask him why and whitherfore, he'd say: "This makes my spirit ache! The clerk has made a sad mistake!" I wearied of that chestnut bluff; I wearied of his wilted stuff; and every man who pays his cash for first rate goods, and then gets trash will hate the man who works the game, and all excuses he may frame.

GAS, DYSPEPSIA, INDIGESTION AND ALL OTHER STOMACH MISERY GOES

Take a little Diapiesin now and your Stomach will feel fine five minutes later.

If your meals don't sit comfortably, or you feel bloated after eating, and you believe it is the food which fills you; if what little you eat lies like a lump of lead on your stomach; if there is difficulty in breathing after eating; eruptions of sour, undigested food and acid; heartburn, burps or a belching of gas, you can make up your mind that you need something to stop food fermentation and cure indigestion.

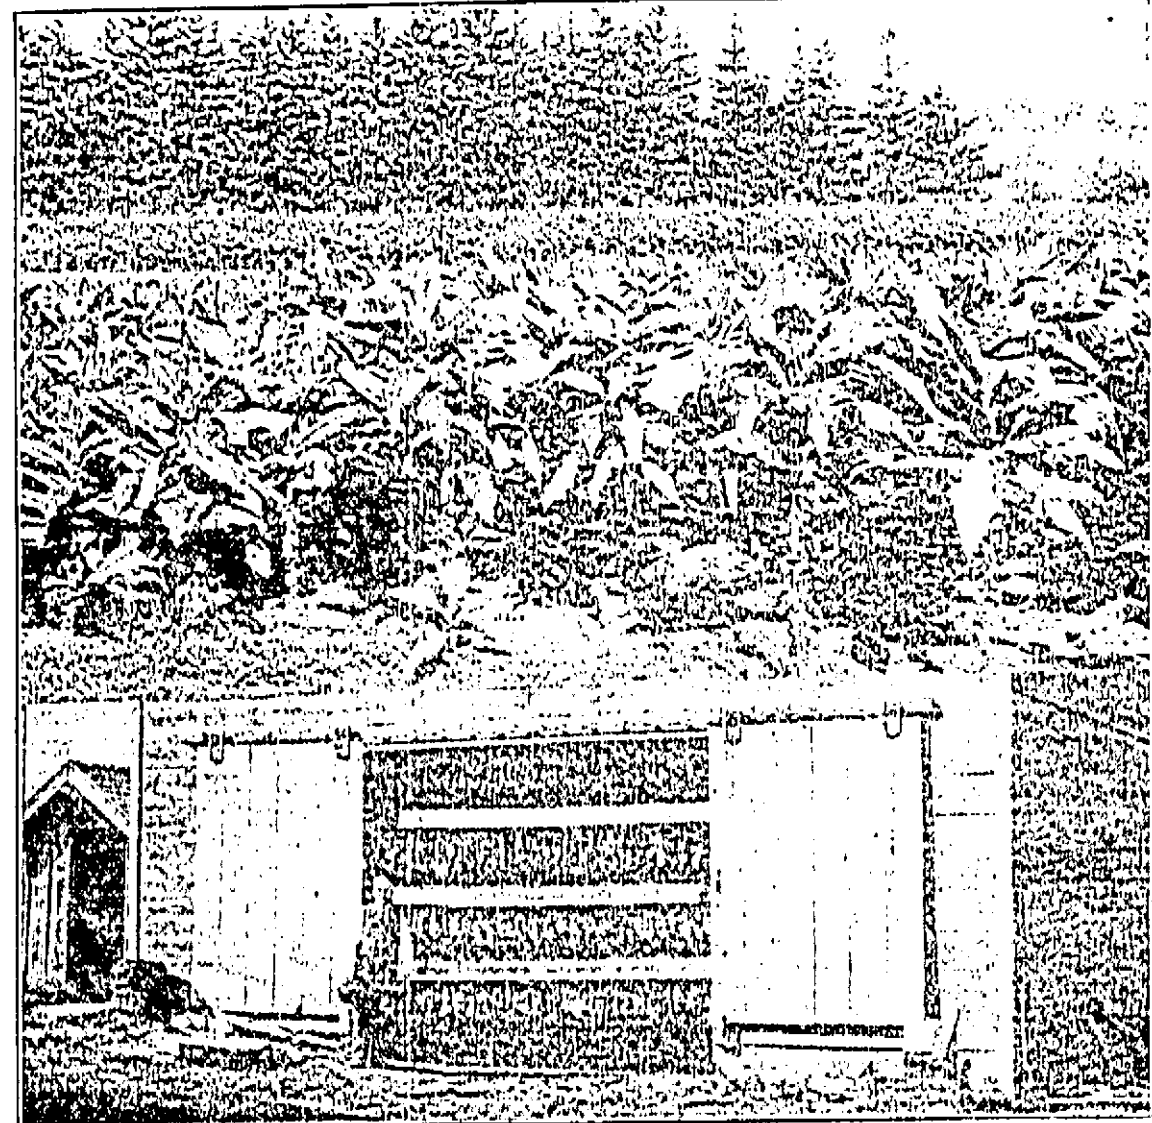

To make every bite of food you eat aid in the nourishment and strength of your body, you must rid your stomach of poisons, excessive acid and stomach gas, which sours your entire meal—interferes with digestion and causes so many sufferers of Dyspepsia, Sick Headache, Bloating, Constipation, Griping, etc. Your case is no food you eat.

different—you are a stomach sufferer, though you may call it by some other name; your real and only trouble is that which you eat does not digest, but quickly ferments and sours, producing almost any unhealthy condition.

A case of Diapiesin will cost fifty cents at any Pharmacy here, and will convince any stomach sufferer five minutes after taking a single dose that Fermentation and Sour Stomach is causing the misery of Indigestion.

No matter if you call your trouble Catarrh of the Stomach, Nervousness or Gastritis, or by any other name—always remember that a certain cure is waiting at any drug store the moment you decide to begin its use.

Diapiesin will regulate any out-of-order Stomach within five minutes, and digest promptly without any fuss or discomfort, all of any kind of food you eat.

completed this year on the Heddles' farm on Mineral Point Avenue in the city limits. Eighteen acres of tobacco have been under cultivation here on joint account with Carl Ginnos, who planted and cared for the crop up until the time to commence harvest, when the work of harvesting was turned over to Mr. S. B. Heddles for experimental work, and with the end of the present week the last work of harvesting will be completed.

According to the method of priming used by Mr. Heddles, the yield of wrappers will be from 1,200 to 1,400 pounds per acre, and the yield of "B's" or to leaves the filler grade will be 1,200, making the total number of pounds estimated per acre, 2,400 to 2,600. Of the total amount of the leaf raised fully one half will be of the wrapper grade, whereas under the old methods of raising the crop, all that could be expected of Wisconsin tobacco was the better grade of fillers.

The method of priming to secure this yield is somewhat new to the grower in this section, although Mr. Heddles conducted experiments along the same lines in 1902 when he cultivated several acres of shade grown Sumatra for the experimental work for the Agricultural College. According to the methods employed the two or three top sprouts which grow from the place of conjunction of leaf and stalk, are allowed to grow after the original topping, and it is these sprout stalks which produce the filler leaves of the crop.

As soon as the leaves on the main stalk of the plant have become ripe, they are picked off by hand and carried in baskets to the sheds where they are strung on strings, back to back and face to face, and then caught over the notched ends of the regular tobacco laths for hanging and curing.

There are on an average of 12 to 15 leaves of this wrapper grade on the main stalk and which are treated in the manner indicated above.

The further work of fermentation and assorting of the wrapper grades is a strictly scientific work and must have the same care and treatment as employed in the preparation of the shade grown Sumatra wrappers.

The estimated cost of harvesting this first lot of leaves is estimated by Mr. Heddles at six cents per pound. During the present harvest season while picking and hanging the leaves from his eighteen acre field, he employed between thirty-five and forty men and women, to perform the various parts of the work, the harvest lasting over five weeks.

NOTES FOR CITY FARMERS ONLY.

By H. L. RANS.

We have our own opinion of the farmer who takes his boys out of school just at the age when they are able to straddle a cultivator or strip a holler. If you want your son to grow up with a noisy vacuum where his head ought to be, take him off his books and the him to the plow hand in at fourteen years.

You may have a good couplet for a book "Gladness," but it won't be a shoe compared to the contempt the lad will have for you if he tries to break into one of the professions with the mental equipment of a spring lamb. You owe it to the boy to give him the best education your means and his brains will stand for. Deny it to him, keep his nose to the grindstone, get all you can out of him before he becomes a village loafer, and when they plant you in the hillsides they will have to hire mourners from outside the family. The boy may have some pride, if you haven't, and when he mixes with educated young people, who have learned something besides how to pull a wheelbarrow or set a dice barrow, he will marvel at their acquaintances with books and men and topics which are as strange to him as a bubble skirt on a Hotentot. Then, too, the day has gone by, brother, when a six-ply ignorant with a capacity for punishment in the hay field makes the best farmer. It isn't going to femininize your son to know something more than the three R's. If he is the right sort, he won't look down on his dad, either, because he can untangle a French quotation or distinguish the style of Thackeray from that of Bertha M. Afton.

FEARFUL BURNING ITCH WAS CURED

By Cuticura Soap and Ointment.
Another Man Had Itching on Scalp.
Hair Fell Out, Leaving Bald Spots.
Now Hair Has Grown, Thanks to Cuticura Soap and Ointment.

"I deem it my duty to tell about a cure that the Cuticura Soap and Ointment have made on myself. My trouble began in winter breaking out right in the edge of my hair on the forehead, and spread over the front part of the top of my head from ear to ear, and over my ears which caused a most fearful burning itch, or even a most fearful burning itch, or even a most fearful burning itch. I tried our family doctor and he failed to cure it. Then I tried the Cuticura Soap and Ointment and used them for two months with the result of a complete cure. Cuticura Soap and Ointment should have the credit due, and I have advised a lot of people to use them." (Signed) C. D. Tharrington, Crook, N. C., Jan. 26, 1911.

"I will say that I have been suffering with an itching on my scalp for the past few years. My hair fell out in spots all over my head. My scalp started to trouble me with sores, then the sores healed up, and crusts formed on the top. Then the hair fell out and left me three bald spots the size of a half dollar. I went to more than one doctor, but even he did not get any relief, so I started to use the Cuticura Remedies. I tried one bar of Cuticura Soap and some Cuticura Ointment, and felt relieved right away. Now the bald spots have disappeared and my hair has grown, thanks to the Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I highly recommend the Cuticura Remedies to all that are suffering with scalp trouble." (Signed) Samuel Stern, 236 Floyd St., Brooklyn, N. Y., Feb. 7, 1911.

Although Cuticura Soap and Ointment are sold everywhere, a liberal sample of each, with 32-p. book on the skin, will be sent post-free, on application to Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Dept. 9A, Boston, Mass.

Truth Unsold.
"Truth is as impossible to be sold by any outward touch as the sunbeam."
—Milton.

The Essential Preliminary.
Miss Langish—Do you think the first step to a woman's marriage is love?
Miss Port—No; I think the first step to her marriage is when some body asks her.

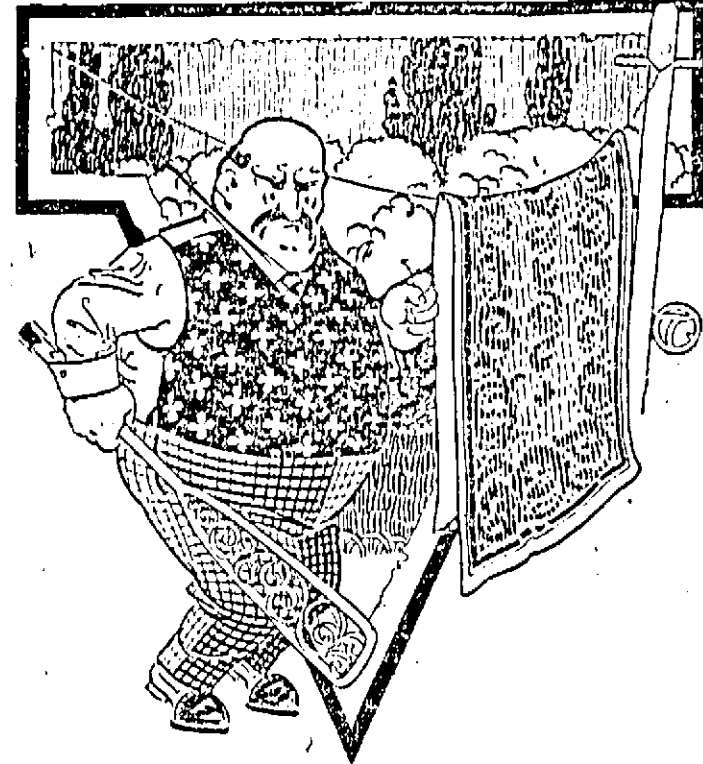

Not Always.
"They say that a girl who acts three times as a bridemaid will never be a bride."
"It isn't so, unless the best man always happens to be a person who doesn't interest her."

Natural Question.
"He was one of their most reliable and trustworthy employees." "What's the matter, is he dead or just absent?"

Always Funny.
"Don't you think the joke is funny?"
"I certainly do."
"Then why don't you laugh?"
"My mind was occupied in trying to place it. I think the last time I came across it was in a paper which credited it to Horace Greeley."

Not Legal.
"The stranger yonder has a very distinguished air, and I must have seen him before, but I can't recall him."
"The law won't let you—he's a judge."

Had Reason.
Mrs. Nagg—Who was it that said, "I thank God I am not as other men?"
Mr. Nagg—Some bachelor—Lippincott's.

A FICKLE PARENT.
A parent, when he has to whip his boy, is truly sad; but when his wife asks him to whip a carpet, then he's mad.

London's Great Fur Sales.
An interesting sight in London is one of the great periodical sales of raw skins and furs held at a fur warehouse in the city, says the London Graphic. The magnitude of the trade and the vast amount of money involved would surprise anyone who visited one of these sales for the first time. At the premises in Great Queen street one can wander from floor to floor piled with thousands upon thousands of skins until one begins to wonder where all the creatures they once clothed lived.

No Time for Hesitation.
In transferring the two thousand passengers from the sinking steamer Republic, the greatest difficulty was found in getting the women to leap at the very instant they were told to. If they hesitated an instant a wave carried the boat too far away, and they fell into the water, and had to be fished out. One woman who so told had a bag of jewels in her hand, which she lost.

Honesty Rewarded.
A charming story of a working girl's good fortune comes from High Wycombe, Buckinghamshire, England. A few days ago the girl saw something fall from a passing motor car. She immediately signaled to the occupants, who turned back, and when she handed up the "find" a sovereign was placed in her hand, to her great amazement. When asked what she would have done had she not attracted their attention, the girl said she would have taken the package to the police. The party thereupon took her for a trip to London and back to Oxford, and in the end presented her with a gold watch and chain.

The Age of Happiness.
What is the age of happiness? A great man of science has lately declared his belief that positivism, like measles, is a complaint of youth and a calm joy the characteristic of age. The women workers have just been told by Mrs. Creighton that middle age is happier than the springtime of life.

LANDS.

ADVERTISEMENTS—The great state of three things must be considered: circulation, class of readers and price. The Reporter gives you ad prices, measure of service for less money than any other newspaper in Northern Iowa. The Reporter is read by 30,000 people every issue. Advertising rates one-half cent a word each insertion. Cash with order. Reporter, Waterloo, Ia. 44-11.

ADVERTISEMENTS—The Hutchinson Daily News, with a guaranteed average circulation of 4,293 for the month of April, 1911, offers the best advertising medium in Hutchinson (population 16,673) and the Arkansas Valley (the Garden Spot of the World). The recognized advertising medium is the Fargo Daily and Sunday Courier-News, the only seven day paper in the state and the paper which carries the largest amount of classified advertising. The Courier-News covers North Dakota, Minn. & Mont. reaching all parts of the state the day of publication; it is the paper to use in order to get results fastest, one cent per word first insertion; one-half cent per word subsequent insertions; fifty cents per line per month. Address The Courier-News, Fargo, N. D. 24-11.

FARMS FOR SALE—Southwest Iowa is one of the richest agricultural districts in the world, and the Daily Nonpareil is practically the only daily paper read in this territory. It is issued morning, evening and Sunday, and with its 17,000 circulation covers the field like a blanket. If you want results from your advertisement, try it. Vienna, Austria.—Martial law has been proclaimed and the entire city is in the hands of military authorities, owing to the bread riots and the attack on the palace and other public buildings. The district is occupied by 6,000 troops. The situation is very grave not only in Austria, but in Spain as well. So acute has become the crisis in Spain that a revolutionary movement is expected at any moment and the most stringent measures are being taken to put down the rioters and anarchists.

The Celestial Empire then notified the United States that in return for the generous action of the latter, the amount that it would otherwise have paid under the agreement would be

A BOY'S MOTIVES.

A boy is more apt to have fairly good motives than false ones. He starts out in life with something in him that will grow into a sense of right, and, if he gets tangled, it will be because he is tangled, through the eye or the ear or in both ways. If a boy's motives are entirely bad, he is seldom, if ever, entirely to blame for it. There is a reason. It may be, in fact, a case of atavism, in which he has gone back and appropriated the feral tastes of some wild ancestor and his parents were not wise enough to protect him against the ravages of the atavistic beast.

At the outset, we must concede the difficulty of knowing exactly what a boy's motives are, for his deepest, most dominant motive is often tangled with superficial, secondary and temporary ones; and these may be so complex and active as to discourage us. How can we ever detach the real motive from this tangle of impulses and make it the dominant thing is the problem. If he asks you a question, you are never sure of his purpose. It may be fun or fancy or an evasion of duty.

Two things encourage us. One is that these surface motives are not the deepest things about him. They are not the symptoms of anything bad, but of a new stage that he has reached, when new forces of the body and faculties of the mind are being released. He hardly knows what hurts him, but something is keeping his eyes wide open and his nerves all jumping. The other encouragement is that these are the curious ways in which his very deepest and truest nature is finding itself. His devotion to the gang is the spirit of loyalty starting toward universal brotherhood; his feudism for contests is the first exhibition of the warrior instinct getting ready to fight the good fight of faith; his Bohemianism, an illicit cosmopolitanism; his local attachments, the prelude to patriotism; his battles for his partners, the forerunners of his battles in the higher interest of his fellow men.

His motives will need several things. First of all they must be discovered and recognized by the older people. A young man who had lost a position, because of inefficiency, was employed by another firm, because they were compelled to have some one and he was the only one they could get. Soon they noticed that he had good suggestions to make and he found that they would listen. He began to climb, and, before long, was in a very responsible position and was indispensable to the firm. When asked why he could not keep his first job, he replied "they treated me as if I was a fool, and I acted like one." That discloses a reason why a boy's best must be recognized. To attribute a bad motive for the frankish and frankish ways of a boy is one way of making them bad, while the surest way to make them good is to consider them so and let him know that you do.

His motives will also need protection. Those that are temporary, like temporary teeth, may be treated in a way to disfigure him for life; in fact, the temporary may be made the permanent by false treatment. A brutal attempt to suppress the outflow of his tumultuous nature may make it ingrowing, may bottle it up to be emitted, all his life, in inopportune ways. The war-whoop may become malignant, if it is not allowed to come out in all its innocence. The genuine good will must be allowed to effervesce in its own way, as a protection to his whole nature.

His motives will also need infection from without, so as to correct and complete them. Our growth is always by expansion from within and infection from without. If one wants to get yellow fever, he only needs to let some ambitious mosquito bore into his cuticle, with a bill that has been dipped in a cauldron of germs, and crawl over him with feet that have a good assortment of germs clinging to them. Then the victim is ready for the worst. One can also have health infection, as in antitoxin and in the infusion of pure fresh blood from some one. Judge Baldwin of Oak Park gave his invalid daughter some of his own vigorous blood, not long ago, by infusion. It is of the highest importance that a boy's motives be frequently purified by fresh infusions of motives of the highest kind.

When he is thus assisted, direction will be needed more than correction. Formation is a good substitute for reformation; if the former is right, the latter will not be necessary. To discover his best motives, to discriminate them from the secondary and temporary, to direct them in righteous and rational ways—this is some one's high and inescapable duty.

One thing more, and it cannot be said too frequently and forcibly, he must have concrete instances of the very best motives that can be produced and must find them in those people who, because of their natural relationship to him and their personal attractions for him, are charged with sacred responsibilities for him—those who create the atmosphere that enters into his fiber, furnish him a conscience before his own is in command and supply him with motives that reshape and guide his own.

ONTARIO IS BLAMED FOR DEFEAT OF RECIPROCITY

Laurier and Larger Markets Have Majority in Other Provinces, When Taken Together.

Montreal, Sept. 23.—The province of Ontario is responsible for the defeat of Premier Laurier and reciprocity, according to students of Thursday's election returns.

The other provinces, taken together, show a majority of thirteen for Laurier and larger markets, the totals being sixty-four Conservative seats to seventy-one Liberal, even after allowing all the deferred districts to the Conservatives. The loss of thirty-eight seats in Ontario by the Liberals was the point about which the election swung. Present indications are that the Conservatives will have a majority of fifty-three in the twelfth parliament, counting with their forces the one Nationalist elected. The election in the four deferred districts probably will be won by the Conservatives, since these districts usually follow in line with the winners.

The Toronto Globe (Liberal), commenting on the vote in Ontario, says: "The people of Ontario do not like their neighbors to the south. That is emphatically the decision of the election. Liberals in tens of thousands must have joined with Conservatives in city and country to show their objections to having any truck or trade with the Yankees."

The Borden party soon will take up the reins of government. Sir Wilfrid Laurier is expected to retire at the earliest moment consistent with the proper arrangements of the large affairs which have so long been under his control. That his striking figure and strong personality will be missed in public affairs is certain. It is said that he has no definite plans for the immediate future.

A diamond ring, a diamond stickpin, nine dollars and a gold watch belonging to the doctor were found in the slain man's clothing.

Of Interest To Advertisers

Read the editorial clipped from the Daily Gazette of Thursday, September 14th.

It is full of "meat" and contains much of interest to advertisers who want to make every penny of their advertising appropriation bring returns.

THE EVENING PAPER.

Clayton D. Lee, president of the United Press Association, was in the city yesterday and in discussing the relative popularity of the morning and evening papers, said: "The evening paper is recognized throughout the country as the home paper, and even in the large cities is rapidly filling the field at the expense of morning publications."

Mr. Lee is in position to know, for the news service he represents covers the country from coast to coast. The old New York Tribune, which at one time stood at the front in the morning field, gradually declined to a circulation of less than 15,000 and only partially recovered when the price was reduced to a penny.

The important happenings of the world occur in the daytime, and no argument is necessary to convince any thoughtful mind that any enterprising evening paper is in position to secure all the news that is fit to print.

The crimes of the world seek the shelter of darkness, and whatever there is of value connected with them from a news standpoint, belongs to the morning field. The Madison child murder with all its sickening details, was being cried on the streets this morning, and served as a sweet morsel for the breakfast table, but this sort of news is demoralizing to the home.

The evening paper is read and not "skipped" over. It becomes in time a part of the home equipment, the same as the family bible. The circulation of every paper is based on the double standard of quantity and quality, and the latter has much to do with its value as an advertising medium.

The "Evening Wisconsin" has long been recognized as the home paper in Milwaukee, and while its circulation is not as large as some of its rivals in the evening field, its advertising columns are well patronized because of its well established reputation for quality. It is a clean and wholesome journal.

The Gazette has long attempted to "keep the quality up," and the liberal support enjoyed is evidenced by its circulation statements which appear in each issue.

TO HANG ASSASSIN OF RUSSIAN PREMIER

Assassin of Russian Premier Is Tried by a Court-Martial at Kiev.

FACES HIS FATE CALMLY

Young Revolutionist Hears Death Sentence Pronounced Without Flinching—Thousands Attend Stolypin's Funeral.

Kiev, Russia, Sept. 23.—The court-martial which tried Dmitry Bogroff for slaying Premier Stolypin sentenced him to death on the gallows. Bogroff heard his doom without a tremor.

Bogroff shot M. Stolypin on the night of September 14 during a gala performance at the opera, and the premier succumbed to the wound September 18.

Bogroff is about twenty-four years old and a graduate of Kiev university. He was a member of the secret police and also a revolutionist. He is said to have been assigned to the murderous task by the revolutionary organization.

Bogroff Calm in Court. The court-martial was attended by twenty officers, six of whom saw the shooting, among them Minister of Justice Chicheklovitch. In view of Bogroff's plea of guilty, however, none of them was called to the stand. Only Colonel Kulabko, chief of the secret police, through whose instrumentality Bogroff gained admittance to the theater to assassinate M. Stolypin, was examined.

Bogroff declined counsel. Everyone was amazed at his calmness and the firmness of his voice as he related the history of his life. He also described how he had deceived the police in getting the opportunity to assassinate the premier, but did not betray any of his accomplices. He heard the sentence of death pronounced without a tremor.

The sentence must be confirmed by the commander of the military district before Bogroff can be hanged. Thousands at Stolypin Funeral.

The funeral of Premier Stolypin was held in the Pechorsky monastery. Deputations came to Kiev from all parts of the empire to attend the ceremony and laid over 200 wreaths on the catafalque. Thousands of persons, unable to gain admittance to the church, grouped themselves outside the edifice.

After the ceremony had been completed three volleys were fired by the troops as a military honor.

Numerous subscriptions were received toward the erection of a national monument to M. Stolypin. On it will be inscribed the words he uttered in the duenna: "You want a great upheaval. We want a great Russia."

PROBE HIGH FOOD PRICES

Secretary Wilson to Ask Congress for Funds to Aid Consumers.

Washington, Sept. 23.—An investigation to ascertain prices of foodstuffs will be ordered by Secretary Wilson, provided congress will appropriate the necessary funds. Chief Olmstead of the division of statistics has recommended such an investigation to Secretary Wilson.

"We have obtained statistics to establish the value of an acre of land planted in wheat, converted into horseshoes," said Mr. Olmstead. "We have tables showing the relation between a gallon of paint and an acre of potatoes, or a bolt of calico and an acre of beans, but what we should know is how much the ultimate consumer has to pay for a quarter peck of potatoes. We know what they are bringing on the farm, but we do not know the bearing of the cost of tomatoes upon the cost of a salad in our city homes."

HIRED TO KILL MAN FOR $50

Witness in Trial Confesses He Slew Non-Union Printer.

Chicago, Sept. 23.—John Daly, an ex-pugilist, related in Judge Hines' court what he declared to be the story of his career as a hired slayer for the Chicago Typographical Union No. 14.

The witness gave damaging testimony against William J. Deener, former organizer of the union, and Samuel Olson, a printer, who are accused of having hired Daly to slay Ruth V. Deener, a nonunion printer, who was killed on January 16 last. Samuel Casady, who was employed by Daly to assist him, also was in court and admitted striking the blow that resulted in Deener's death.

Daly said he was given $50 for the job and that he employed Casady, "Mumie" Wilson and John White, each of them receiving five dollars.

Following the testimony of the confessed slayers the case was continued until Tuesday.
